MEMORANDUM FOR: Deputy Director for Management and Services

SUBJECT : Weekly Report - Office of Training

I. Recent Activities

A. CIA Today and Tomorrow

This course concluded on 28 June with a first-rate, morale-building presentation by the DDCI. Comments from the students were highly favorable; the majority thought that the course met its stated objectives well, and provided a valuable forum for bringing them up-to-date on recent and future developments in the Agency and the Community. (Interest in this program remains high; the September course is already oversubscribed.)

B. SWOOP

The Student and Wives Overseas Orientation Program was held from 25 June through 29 June 1973 [redacted] for OC personnel. OTR presented three of the five days. All participating faculty members thought this was the best program to date; the students were enthusiastic, appreciative, and responsive. STATINTL

C. Meeting on Agency TV Services

On 2 July representatives of CRS, [redacted] NPIC, OC, OJCS, OTS, and OTR met to discuss the need for a central body to coordinate Agency television assets and uses. [redacted] chaired the meeting. Spokesmen from each office described their current as well as anticipated uses of television, including number of personnel involved, types of equipment, and, if known, an estimate of how much money is needed for television in the foreseeable future. A second meeting will be convened within the next ten days. STATSPEC STATSPEC military positions tentatively identified for the joint training staff by DIA on the basis that the positions were not responsive to the needs specified by CIA and directed the DIA Action Officer to prepare a request from the Director, DIA, to the Assistant Secretary of Defense for Intelligence (Dr. Hall) for the assignment of civilian positions appropriate to these needs.

This action is not necessarily indicative of the Agency's lack of DIA support; only a suggestion of delay in bringing the faculty of ISTS up to full complement.

E. Brookings Conference

The current season of Brookings briefings was concluded on 28 June 1973 with a special briefing for 19 faculty members of university schools of business administration. Attending the session were also three vice-presidents of the Sears-Roebuck Foundation, which, with Brookings co-sponsors this annual one-week program.

Mr. Colby conducted the briefing and was host at a luncheon for the group in the Executive Dining Room. Co-hosts at the luncheon and panelists in a lively and stimulating question period following the briefing were Messrs. [redacted] STATINTL Alfonso Rodriguez. This was the second time that the Agency participated in the program for this particular group.

The next regular Brookings session (the first of 10 in FY 1974) for Business Executives on Government Operations is scheduled for 2 November 1973.

II. Upcoming Developments

A. Senior Seminar

To assist planning the intelligence methodologies block of the next Senior Seminar, we are inviting a number of knowledgeable individuals from the DDI and DDS&T to brief us and other interested OTR officers, informally, on 19 July. We already have acceptances from officers in OCI, OER, OSR, OSI, and ORD. The morning session will be in Room 1001, CofC, and the afternoon session in Room 912.

B. CT Wives Briefing

On 14 July we will present a special briefing for the wives of the July 1973 CT Class. The briefing will include a presentation by the OTR Briefing Officer and a showing of the film, "A Need to Know." The wives will also meet informally with members of the CT Staff, giving them opportunity to raise any questions they may have about their husbands' work.
